August 21-25, 2014

Thursday, August 21 Arrive in Albuquerque and transfer to Santa Fe, where we check into our hotel, La Fonda on the Plaza. After lunch on your own, we will have a walking tour of downtown Santa Fe, followed by a special dinner with Lois Ellen Frank, PhD, photographer and chef/owner of "Red Mesa" catering.

- Santa Fe
- Walking Tour
- Special Dinner

Friday, August 22 Today we will travel north through the Rio Grande Valley into the Chama River Valley area to view the spectacular landscape that inspired so many of Georgia O'Keeffe's paintings. We will take a special tour of Abiquiu, O'Keeffe's home for many years. On our way back to Santa Fe, we will visit the famed San Ildefonso Pueblo, best known for the black-on-black pottery produced by Maria Martinez and her family. This ware was highly sought after by modernist collectors in the East and remains popular today. Return to Santa Fe in time to enjoy the Indian Market.

- Abiquiu
- San Ildefonso Pueblo
- Indian Market

Saturday, August 23 The morning will be free to browse Indian Market as well as visit galleries and the Georgia O'Keeffe Museum, among others. Late afternoon we will depart together for the Santa Fe Opera, where we will have a backstage tour, a buffet dinner, and enjoy the season's final performance of Georges Bizet's Carmen.

- Indian Market
- Galleries and Museums
- Santa Fe Opera

Sunday, August 24 This will be a full-day trip to the charming town of Taos, one of the most important artist colonies in early 20th-century America. We will visit the enchanting San Francisco de Asis Church in Ranchos de Taos; Taos Pueblo; the Mabel Dodge Luhan House; the Millicent Rogers Museum; and the Fehin Museum. We will have lunch together, then some free time on the plaza, before returning to Santa Fe for a specially arranged farewell dinner in a private home.

- Taos
- Private collection
- Farewell dinner

Monday, August 25 After breakfast, a transfer for the group to Albuquerque airport for mid-day departure will be provided.
Depart for home
